

Speeds you want

Yields you need

High speed slicing is essential to efficient processing, but because of high raw material costs, high yields are absolutely vital. Our new, fully automatic IBS3000 Vision bacon slicer boasts revolutionary innovations* that provide precise slicing control and the high performance needed to deliver those all important extra slices. These, along with a vision system that precisely sizes and grades for maximum onweights and minimum giveaway, head a host of new and important features that will make a real difference to your output and profitability.
